Wood and Rosa Asancio ---Page Break--- INTRODUCTION The hydrographic data included in this report were collected as part of a site selection survey to provide basic oceanographic data to assist the Puerto Rico Water Resources Authority (PRWRA) in determining the best locations for additional electrical power generating facilities on the Island, both nuclear and fossil fuel. This report includes data from two sites and an offshore transect between the sites. The Punta Verraco site, PVE, is on the west side of Guayanilla Bay (Figure 1) and the Cabo Mala Pascua site, CMP, is located on the southeast corner of the Island. Data were also collected seaward from Jobos Bay, OJ8, to determine the effects of the open sea on nearshore oceanographic parameter characteristics. The two south coast sites are about 50 kilometers apart. The offshore Jobos Bay transect was made about 35 kilometers west of Cabo Mala Pascua. Cruises were scheduled to sample these sites quarterly to determine the effects of seasonal changes. The 1973 summer season cruise to the south coast was cancelled by PRWRA because of priorities on the north coast. The 1973 fall season sampling was missed because the ship was ITINERARY OF CRUISES The stations sampled are indicated in the Figures and their respective coordinates are listed in Table 1. Figures 2 through 14 indicate the chronological order of sampling of the stations on each cruise. The dates and time of sampling are indicated on the Figures. Time is Greenwich Mean Time, GMT, to tenths of hours. The sampling dates were: February 20, 1973; February 22, 1973; May 21, 1973; May 23, 1973; February 12, 1974; February 13, 1974; April 22, 1974; April 23, 1974; April 23-24, 1974; August 21, 1974; August 22, 1974; November 13, 1974; November 14, 1974. The data are
